

ALASKA, the largest state in the Union is in the Northwest extremity of the North American continent, with a population of a little more than 700,000 residents. It was purchased from Russia in 1867 for $7.2 million and was admitted to the Union in 1959 as the 49th state. The capital is Juneau. Approximately 65% of the land in this state is owned and managed by the U.S. Government. The state is home to to the largest wildlife refuge in the entire world. The first Lions Club was established in Juneau but was cancelled in 1929. The next Club was established in Anchorage in 1944.

OF THE STATE OF ALASKA

NOTE: The images above are excellent examples of Chamber of Commerce or Travel Bureau public relations items that were often used by the Lions prior to the issue of authorized Lions friendship pins. The Lions took these to conventions and traded them in the same manner as we presently trade our Lions pins. As a result, they are highly collectible by many traders. These examples were traded by the Lions of Alaska

The 1966 pin shown at the left was remade in 1996 at the request of the then Council to honor PDG Stan Davis who was Governor in 65-66. PDG Stan was in poor health at the time and later passed away. The lettering in the words Alaska & Canada is somewhat larger than the original as is the dates on the pin. This pin has CP on the reverse and the original pin has a plain reverse.

NOTE: There are quite a few color variations in this series. Most are caused by different amounts of enamel, while some are merely victims of fading. Some are bright and some are yellowed as shown in the 1975 pin. Some have a pink tint as shown in the 1982 V. The 1977 V is an interesting variation in that the entire Lions emblem is gold.

The 1996 is a true color variation. It is dark green with a small Lions Club emblem as opposed to the regular issue which is light green with a large emblem. Both are shown here

Miscellaneous Pins

This Bear is purported to be the first Alaska pin. It is made from walrus ivory. The story goes that the Alaska Lions ordered quite a few of them from an Alaskan native who did ivory carvings. When he saw how difficult they were for the money being paid he finished this one and would not do the rest to fill the order.

1961 Note the similarity to the regular 1961. This is about one third the size of the regular one and has a glued on Lions emblem.

1987 Rare Variety or possible sample

1969 Unknown possible sample or club pin. Notice the two holes in the corners which were probably put there to attach a dangler.
